

Real Good Food plc

STATEMENT ON MODERN SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Introduction

This has been published in accordance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015. This statement provides an update on progress of Real Good Food plc (the “Group”) during the financial year ending 31st March 2021.

The Board of Real Good Food plc fully understands and endorses the importance of ensuring our businesses continue to monitor, minimise and eliminate all potential modern slavery risks, and this statement outlines our progress to date.

As part of the food industry, we recognise our responsibility to take a robust stance on the abhorrent practices of slavery and human trafficking.

We remain absolutely committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in all corporate activities and to ensuring that our supply chains are free from such injustices.

Organisational Structure and Supply Chains

Real Good Food plc is the parent company to three operating companies, JF Renshaw Ltd, Rainbow Dust Colours Ltd and Brighter Foods Ltd.

We manufacture ingredients and finished products and supply to all channels of the food industry in the UK, Europe, the USA and Australia.

We have procurement and technical teams in each of our businesses, each of which are responsible for ensuring that they are compliant with our Group policies and that raw materials and packaging are ethically sourced from the UK, USA, Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

Policies and Responsibility

The Group annually reviews and updates its employment policies and procedures and the leadership teams within each of the businesses are responsible for the implementation of these within their businesses. There are a number of Group policies that are relevant and appropriate to modern slavery, these are:

- Whistleblowing

The Group continues to encourage its employees to report in confidence any concerns relating to the activities of the organisation and the way in which business is conducted. This includes any circumstances that may give rise to a risk of slavery or human trafficking.

- Employee Codes of Conduct

Our Leadership Framework and core values continue to be embedded into our ways of working. The Framework directly addresses the need for ethical, competent and compliant relationships with our customers and suppliers.

This framework is integral to our ways of working as we continue to strive to maintain the highest standards of employee conduct and ethical behaviour in all business activities. This is particularly important as our business interacts with territories culturally different from our traditional markets and our supply chains operate on a global platform.

- Ethical Trading

The Group supports and adopts the Base Code of the Ethical Trading Initiative, along with our customers and suppliers.

We are Sedex members, we are continually assessed via third party validation against the SMETA criteria and continue to perform well in ethical audits.

We currently work with our high-risk suppliers to ensure that they have action plans in place that will allow them to continue to confirm and meet with our Ethical Code of Practice.

Any partners or suppliers who fail to improve their performance in line with an action plan or seriously violate our supplier code of conduct, will be subject to sanctions which include termination of the business relationship.

- Anti-Bribery

The Group complies with the requirements of the Anti-Bribery Act 2010 and has developed a policy which outlines our commitment to operating to the highest standards of conduct and integrity. The Group does not tolerate any form of bribery by or of its employees, agents or consultants, or any person acting on our behalf.

Our policy continues to be reviewed, updated and communicated.

- Recruitment

We carefully select our recruitment partners to ensure they identify new employees in a manner which is ethical and legally compliant. We retain a list of approved partners who are reviewed on a continual basis. Those approved partners are actively encouraged to undertake appropriate training.

“Stronger Together” training has now been embedded into induction and recruitment processes throughout the Group and we continue to ensure that any agency providers with which we work adopt this approach.

Responsibility for the policies outlined above is shared by the Main Board and the local Boards of Directors. The policies continue to undergo reviews on an annual basis.

Continuing Actions:

The businesses have developed their own training and development plans which encompass all aspects of the Modern Slavery Act and its impact on us as individuals and corporately. This training will continue to be reviewed and refreshed annually to ensure this remains at the forefront of our ways of operating.

In the coming year a culture engagement survey will be rolled out across the businesses to identify methods and ways that we can improve.

From a procurement and supply chain point of view, we will continue to build on the good work being developed by the local teams as we seek to ensure an ethical supply chain across the Group.

This statement has been approved the board of Real Good Food plc, who will review and update it annually.
